Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 5, first paragraph, certain features are said to be shown in Fig. 3 but are not in Fig. 3. Appropriate correction is required.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the door must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1 and 8, the phrase "up-and-over and sectional doors" is ambiguous. Are these two different types of doors or is the sectional door of the up-and-over type? Since the door is being positively recited, e.g. "sliding block or carriage...connected to the door", it is improper to recited two different types of doors. Also, the alternate structures "sliding block or carriage" and "body or casing" are indefinite as well. The number 12 is used to represent the sliding block or carriage and the sprocket. The phrase "by a gear motor", line 9, does not acknowledge that the gear motor has already been recited. The recitation "in profile (11)" relies on the reference number. However, reference numbers can only be used to accompany the recitation of the element and not as an indication of what element is being claimed. There is no antecedent basis for "the rollers", claim 6. Claims 3 and 9 recite "two additional channels". However, a channel has not been recited to form the basis for "additional channels".

Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The description of the passage being "tapered" is not adequately disclosed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2,4 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Wheatland.

The motor M drives a sprocket 68 which operates a chain having an active portion 78 and a passive portion 80, which are guided by channels 56,58, that have portions that engage the rollers of the chains as seen in Fig. 4. See block 88. The channel walls along with element 64 provide the external and internal guide fixtures which are "tapered", as best understood.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wheatland.

Providing an additional channel, constituting a duplication of parts, would have been obvious so as to increase chain storage options.

Art Unit: 3634

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Meyer et al in view of Wheatland.

Meyer et al discloses a housing 21 which drives a tape which is driven by a sprocket and which has active and passive portions contained in channels 59,60. Also provided are the portions of the guide passage as recited and the internal and external guide elements, Fig. 4. See additional channels 62. What is not shown is the chain. However, a chain is the full mechanical equivalent of the tape of Meyer et al and it would have been obvious to modify Meyer et al to have such a chain due to it's increased strength and lack of stretching.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
